

It is inappropriate to vote on a change in rules on media, which are public domain, without educating/involving the public that it serves.